Andrews University Teaching and Learning Conference
Call for Proposals 2021

On Thursday, March 25, 2021, the Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum Department at Andrews University in partnership with Berrien Springs Public Schools, will host its 18th annual conference. The AUTLC invites proposals for scholarly work, posters, and best practice sessions from university faculty, PreK-12 teachers, graduate and undergraduate students, and other education professionals. This year’s conference theme is Resilience, Reimagining, and Retooling: Teaching and Learning in Changing Environments.

This year the conference will be virtual. This will allow educators from around the world to share reports of significant work or integrative reviews in theory, research, development, applications, and societal issues related to all aspects of education. Best Practices session presenters will discuss and demonstrate strategies, techniques, or solutions to common issues in education. This will be an opportunity to inform attendees about the lessons learned and future plans from those who have designed, developed, and implemented education in effective and/or innovative ways especially in the face of challenging and uncertain times. Individuals and groups can submit proposals. In order to accommodate the demand, all presentations will be limited to 15 minutes with 5 minutes for Q&A and transition to the next presenter. All events of the AUTLC are free of charge.

Conference Schedule:
12:30-1:15 - Poster sessions
1:30-2:30 - Breakout sessions 1 (3 presentations per breakout session)
2:45-3:45 - Breakout sessions 2 (3 presentations per breakout session)
04:30 - 06:00 - Keynote address - Helping Students Reclaim Cognitive Capacity Lost to Poverty, Racism, Trauma, Marginalization, and Uncertainty - Cia Verschelden

Proposals are due no later than January 15 and should be submitted to the following link: digitalcommons.andrews.edu/autlc
